Testimonials

We led 27 user calls to challenge our game mechanics, UI, and art-direction

Kook Capital*Solana Influencer | 23,7k Followers

"Kayo is a great coaching game with an accessible, look, and feel and yet SUPER exciting strategy layers. The managed to balance the amount of data nicely, to keep the game casual for new users, and rich enough for highly-engaged players. I definitely imagine engaged users spending their days analysing data to perfect their strategy. I can't wait to see what the team has in store."

Fantin Gislet*Game Designer | Ohm Games

"The team came to me because they wanted brutally harsh feedbacks. Upon talking with the team, I was impressed with the way they were building their game. The team showed me a new version of the game, based on my game design feedbacks, less than 24 hours later. The team behind the project has been very dedicated. While it's still early in their development, I believe the team managed to focus on the right priorities for this hackathon. I believe they have something quite promising in their hands!"

Haroon Razak*Partnership Director, ex-Lead Producer | DisruptionX

"Discovering Kayo for the first time was great: the inspired comic book art-style meets martial arts, intertwined with strategy clicked with me. I look forward to seeing the game grow until I can start playing it again, and seeing how far my fighters can go!"

Shandy Sulen*Entrepreneur & P2E player | Microsoft

"They woke up the gamer inside me. Buying a fighter takes me back me when I was 12 years old, opening Pokemon packs for the first time, and discovering if I had finally the right pokemon for my team! I'm incredibly excited to see the future of this project! Wen mint ?!"
